LANDRY HOME
DECORATING

John Landry, owner of Landry Home Decorating, says the secret to his business is customer service. "We are knowledgeable experts, and pay attention to quality, craftsmanship and detail." Landry's commitment to the customer is the secret to his success. The Landry family has been in the business since 1938. John has run Landry Home Decorating for two decades.

The 38,000 square foot Landry Home Decorating showroom is the area's source for upholstery, window treatments, custom furniture, slipcovers, and carpeting. Clients can come to a showroom or Landry Home Decorating will come to your home for a free consultation. "Some people get overwhelmed in large showrooms," Landry explains. "So our decorators go to their home and bring a collection of ideas. Then clients can visualize it in their home. With our expertise, we can recommend what fabric is best for what pieces." Upholstered pieces are picked up and delivered for free. They serve customers as far north as Southern Maine and as far south as the Cape.

Landry Home Decorating has a commitment to the environment. "When you reupholster furniture rather than buying new furniture, you are keeping that furniture out of a landfill." For those who want to take being green a step further, Landry Home Decorating offers organic upholstery. "It's great for people with allergies," Landry says. For those who want organic upholstery, they upholster with products like non-allergenic wood sealer, organic cotton, dust mite covers, and pre-washed organic fabrics.

Another environmental choice is choosing Hunter Douglas Architella Honeycomb shades energy efficient shades. 30% of the cost can be written off on your taxes.

There are many ways to save money by using Landry Home Decorating. "Decorating does not have to be expensive," says Landry. "We help with budgeting. We offer volume discounts, package pricing, and other options."

Residential or commercial, whether it's a small footstool for a client or installing 3,400 blinds for military housing at Hanscom Airforce Base (as they are currently doing), Landry Home Decorating "creates beautiful homes one room at a time."
